
Please Join Us For MURDER
AT THE DEADWOOD
CANTINA
DEPUTY SHERIFF
Night of Mystery

MURDER AT THE DEADWOOD CANTINA

For weeks, people have been pouring into the small western town of Deadwood for the biggest poker tournament this side of the Mississippi. From outlaws to marshals to cantina girls, the vast array of visitors and residents of Deadwood have made this small western frontier town THE place to be.

As the festivities of the poker tournament conclude, a celebration party is planned at the Deadwood Cantina to award the prize money for the tournament and to celebrate what is hoped to be a very financially successful venture for the cantina.

With a smattering of bandits, bank owners, cantina girls, card players, east coast debutantes, and a few of the locals, this is guaranteed to make for a very interesting evening indeed.

YOU WOULD BE A FOOL TO MISS THIS CELEBRATION!

© Night of Mystery,
www.nightofmystery.com

Night of Mystery

NO VARMITS
NO FIGHTIN
NO BANDITS

AND OTHER RULES AT THE DEADWOOD CANTINA

READ YOUR CHARACTER SHEET AND THE GAZETTE. Included in this packet will be valuable information!!! Be sure to review your own character description and the newspiece/s included for they both include background information that may come in useful at the party.

DO NOT REVEAL EVERYTHING ABOUT YOUR CHARACTER. Before the party, if you are discussing your character with others, use your discretion as to not give too much away–you may find out at the party that you are the killer indeed!

DRESS THE PART. The more into character you are the easier it will be for you to truly enjoy all the aspects of the night. Not only does a great costume add to the excitement and enjoyment, but it increases your chance to be voted best dressed. See ACluelessMurder.com for more costuming ideas and resources. See MurderatTheDeadwoodCantina.com for more costuming ideas.

USE YOUR MONEY CREATIVELY. At the start of the party, you will receive money to use any way you choose. Bribery and blackmail are two of the most common uses we found - and are highly encouraged! The wealthiest player at the end of the night will also receive an award, so get creative!

GET SOCIAL!!! We LOVE to see and promote all of your party pictures and fun! Go ahead and post your creative costumes, crazy antics, and super-fun party-goers - BUT ABSOLUTELY NO SPOILERS ON SOCIAL!!! This includes, but is not limited to, pictures or mentions of the victim, murderer, and/or pertinent clues in the game. As much fun as it is to write a caption like, "my partner killed me last night!" or share a video of your guest "dying"- posting these details not only keeps us from promoting you, but also also ruins the mystery for others. Since spoiler posts create a calculated loss of business, you can be liable to pay the calculated loss of sales upon discovery of the violation. So keep it fun, crazy, and show us your best spoiler-free content!!! and don't forget to tag us after!

CLICK HERE

#NIGHTOFMYSTERY
#MURDERATTHEDEADWOODCANTINA
@NIGHTOFMYSTERY

© Night of Mystery Inc. - www.nightofmystery.com

DEADWOOD GAZETTE

October 20, 1874

Celebration Party THE Place To Be

With the 1st Annual Poker Tournament in town here, there has been a sweltering of visitors and residents milling around town this week. As the tournament dwindles down, anticipation for the celebration party only grows. The party is planned to take place tonight at the Deadwood Cantina, Friday, October 20, 1874. The party is planned to reward the prize money to the winner and to celebrate the success of the tournament. Many of the visitors as well as the locals will be in attendance. Among those that are expected are:

Harry High-Stakes—Cantina Owner. As the organizer of this grand event, Harry has a lot at stake if it is not successful!

Henrietta High-Stakes—Business partner to Harry High-Stakes. Spending less and less time at the cantina lately, could Henrietta be into something or someone else?

Gambling Jack—Card player. The best hand in poker either side of the Mississippi, Jack has not lost a major tournament in the last five years. Until now.

Anna Belle—Backer and friend of Gambling Jack. Known as Jack's good luck charm, some say Anna Belle is the reason Gambling Jack never loses.

Mitch Maverick—Traveling Businessman. As the winner of the tournament, many question how a businessman could have such great card skills. Could Mitch be the next poker phenomenon?

Holly Hickok—Card player. A real southern belle with a flare for poker, many wonder what a girl like Holly is doing in the Wild West?

Clay Coldwell—Card player. A once known poker-great, Clay may no longer be lucky in cards, but he may be proving to be lucky in friendship.

Montgomery Money—Land Investor. Arriving just this last night, word is Montgomery has his eye on purchasing the cantina and is using this traveling opportunity to seize it.

Elizabeth Money—Sister to Montgomery Money. Although Elizabeth has been here scouting land prospects for her brother all week, she is still not used to the rough and rugged ways of the West.

Minnie Money—Debutante. As the sheltered daughter of Montgomery Money and niece of Elizabeth Money, Minnie's first trip out west has been an adventure that has taught her a lot about the wild ways of the West and the people it breeds.

Banker Bob—Bank Owner. After the Bank of Deadwood was robbed earlier this week, Bob suspects the culprit is someone in need of ante money for the poker tournament. Will Bob take justice into his own hands to punish the bandit?

Banker Bonnie—Business partner to Banker Bob. Desperate for Bob's attention, Bonnie will do anything to get it. Anything.

Jesse Wales—Outlaw. Is Jesse here to meet up with old acquaintances or is this purely a business trip?

Poker Alice—Poker Dealer. Alice makes her living dealing cards at the cantina, but could she be hiding more than her loyalty to her favorite bartender?

Sheriff Sam—Deadwood Sheriff. Although Sam is considered the law enforcement of this town, it has been said the only way to get anything 'enforced' is by padding Sam's wallet.

Marshal Dalton—Federal Marshal. The Marshal was assigned to Deadwood to insure that there is no unlawful activity at the poker tournament. With outlaw rule becoming the way of the West these days, it is time the federal government put some order into place.

Sally Starr—Cantina Girl. Because of Sally's strong allegiance to both Harry and Henrietta High-Stakes, Sally will see to it that the cantina thrives at all costs—but what price is too high?

Taffy Garrette—Cantina Girl. Taffy is the eyes and ears of the cantina, someone who might know a little too much about what is about to go down.

Barb Cassidy—Outlaw. Barb has been in town all week and no one knows quite why.

Billy-The-Bartender—Cantina Bartender and Bookkeeper. Billy knows the cantina life from every side of the coin and has his own suspicions about who is holding the cantina back from succeeding.

REWARD

$5,000

For information about the bandit who robbed the Deadwood Bank earlier this week. Information MUST lead to apprehension or death of the bandit. Please see Banker Bob.

Poker Tourn Draws Far, But Not Wide

The draw for this tournament has been a huge success, with card players coming from all parts of the Union. Poker greats such as Holly Hickok and Gambling Jack have made their way up from the South and we have even seen some faces from the East make their way to these parts to join in on the fun. While the card playing talent has reached record highs for these parts, the actual number of card players is not as abundant as anticipated. Some believe that the caliber of card playing talent is so great that most amateur card players chose not to compete. Others speculate that with a $2,500 ante, the stakes were just too high for the average card player. Of course, the $100,000 purse is the highest known pay-out at this time.

Visit the

DEADWOOD CANTINA

WHERE THE DANCE FLOOR IS ALWAYS OPEN!

© Night of Mystery Inc. - www.nightofmystery.com

Gambling Jack

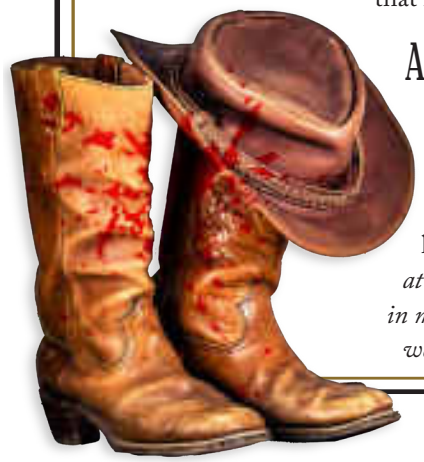

Known as the best of the best at poker, you are not accustomed to losing in any fashion. When you entered the Deadwood Poker tournament, you assumed an automatic win at the poker tables. However, when you realized that the tournament was being held by your old friend, Harry High-Stakes, you were not certain that a win was in the cards for you.

You first met Harry in his outlaw days when Harry spent a great deal of time with Jesse Wales (another outlaw). It was no secret that in those days Harry would go about stealing money and then lose it at cards at the nearest cantina or card house. At the card tables, Harry became a good friend of yours. Harry is the one who taught you to cheat, something you have mastered to a tee. In fact, you have become such a master at the art of cheating that NO ONE has ever caught you and for the last five years you have been on a winning streak. Because of your excellent slight of hand and ability to count cards, you have become known as the best hand in poker. Only Harry knows your secret of how you retain your reputation.

Once you found out that Harry was the organizer of the tournament, you were uncertain if Harry would condone your cheating ways at his tournament. However, when you arrived in Deadwood, Harry approached you with a proposal. Harry made it clear that he would allow you to cheat and keep your cheating a secret only if you would win the tournament and give back the winnings. (Despite the cantina's popularity, Harry owes the bank a great deal of money and he must repay that debt if he does not want to lose his cantina.) In order to save your reputation and your career as a professional card player, you agreed to Harry's request. Unfortunately, you experienced some bad luck and regardless of your best cheating efforts, you lost in the final round of the tournament. Because Harry was depending on you to win the tournament in order to save his cantina, you are worried about how Harry will react. More than anything, you need to keep Harry from telling your secret. If word gets out that you are a cheater, your career (and your good name) would be ruined!

In addition to letting Harry down by your loss, you are also worried about letting down your wealthy backer and longtime friend, Anna Belle. You met Anna Belle when you were just starting a highly unsuccessful career at card playing. Anna Belle's family fortune is what funded your career through those tough years of many financial losses. Since your career has made a distinct turnaround (when you started cheating), Anna Belle has stated that she is very happy she stood by you. Earlier today, Anna Belle was quite shocked when you lost the tournament and she insists that someone else must be cheating. Coincidentally, you think that Poker Alice (the poker dealer) may have witnessed you cheating, but she has yet to say anything. With the potential of your cheating secret being exposed, you fear losing Anna Belle's trust and, more importantly, her wealth. Anna Belle has a hot temper and you fear she may take it out on Holly Hickok, a female card player who has been sweet-talking with you (and all of the other male card players) all week.

While you fear Harry's reaction, you know that you must attend the Deadwood Poker Tournament Party in order to congratulate the winner, Mitch Maverick, and to make amends with Harry. At the party, you hope that Anna Belle does not make a scene about your losing or Holly's sweet-talk.

Acting and Dressing Your Part: A show-off to everyone, at the party you will have to constantly be on your best behavior, both in front of Anna Belle and those watching. Since you are a very successful poker player, you have a very distinguished wardrobe which may consist of a button down shirt, vest, tie and hat (bowler, derby, slouch, card player or other). Popular in the time period, you may also consider adding in facial hair. For more ideas on how to dress and a glossary of wild western words and phrases to use at the party, please see please see the party tips section at www.nightofmystery.com. Simply type in murderatthedeadwoodcantina.com and explore the guest info and costuming sections on the website.

© Night of Mystery Inc. - www.nightofmystery.com