★ MURDER AT THE DEADWOOD CANTINA ★

Deadwood Townsfolk

Dancer, Card player, Patron or Traveler — one of the colorful crowd at the tournament party.

How to Play It

Mingle, gossip and stir the pot! Pick a Western name, ask everybody nosy questions, and pass along any juicy rumors you hear. Dancers: sell those dance tickets and sarsaparillas!

For any extra role: pick 3 to use

1. Mitch Maverick! Congratulations on the big win — a businessman beat the poker greats? How'd you do it?
2. Harry, should we be worried about this cantina closin' its doors?
3. Sheriff Sam, got any leads on who robbed the bank earlier this week?
4. Henrietta, that's a mighty fancy necklace. Where'd you get it?
5. Billie, just how bad are the cantina's finances, and who do you blame?
6. Jesse Wales, what brings you to town — and what happened to that hand?

Be Ready If Asked

"Why are you in town?" → Make up a story: passing through to the gold fields, here for the tournament, visiting kin...

"Did you see anything this week?" → "Didn't see the robbery myself, but I've heard plenty of talk. What have YOU heard?"

"Who do you suspect?" → "I've got my eye on a few folks. Buy me a sarsaparilla and I'll tell ya." (Share gossip; don't invent evidence.)

When to use these: After Harry's welcome, pick 3 lines, go find the person each one mentions (or anyone nearby) and work all three into conversation before the lights go out. Tell the host quietly when you're done. After the murder, follow your B envelope.

Conversation starters for the opening of the party • your character sheet always comes first

OBJECTIVES

Starting Objectives:

- Discreetly let Harry High-Stakes (the cantina owner) know that you know his secret (that Harry is bribing the Sheriff Sam, the sheriff).
- If Harry High-Stakes does not pay you, inform Marshal Dalton (the marshal) of what you know.
- Ask Banker Bob (the bank owner) whom he suspects is guilty in the bank robbery. Follow any leads that Banker Bob gives you.
- Alert Banker Bonnie (Banker Bob's business partner) that you think Bob might hurt the bank robber once the culprit is found out.
- Compliment Henrietta High-Stakes (Harry's business partner) on her nice necklace.

©Night of Mystery, www.nightofmystery.com

Traveler C

As a traveler from the East, you have journeyed to Deadwood to visit for the grand poker tournament and all the excitement that it has promised. At first, you considered entering in the tournament but once you saw some of the names that were also entering the tournament (Gambling Jack, Clay Coldwell and Holly Hickok, to name a few), you realized that you would not stand a chance at winning with such poker greats in attendance. Instead, you spent your money on enjoying yourself at the cantina.

Although you have only been in Deadwood for a week, you have already caught onto the dynamics of the small frontier town. The town is run by Sheriff Sam, a crooked sheriff who is willing to do just about anything for money, and Sam isn't too sly about it either. In fact earlier this week, you witnessed Sheriff Sam taking money from Harry High-Stakes, the cantina owner. In addition, the laziness of Sheriff Sam is almost too much to take. Just a few days ago, the Bank of Deadwood was held up at gunpoint and Sheriff Sam has done little investigating into the crime. Banker Bob (the bank owner), has made it apparent how very displeased he is by Sam's lack of will to investigate. It appears as if Banker Bob is ready to take matters into his own hands when it comes to bringing the bank robber to justice. In contrast, Banker Bonnie (Banker Bob's business partner) has done little to help with the investigation. In fact, Bonnie has been spending even more time at the cantina this week than normal.

As the tournament winds down, you are looking forward to attending the Deadwood Poker Tournament Party. At the party, you are looking forward to getting to know the rest of the people in Deadwood that you have not met just yet on your travels. With all of the characters in and around Deadwood, you are certain the party will be a rootin', tootin' good time!

Acting and Dressing Your Part: You are a traveler to Deadwood, a small frontier town in the Wild West. Since it is 1874, you will dress consistent with the times. If a man, you may wish to consider wearing a button down shirt, vest, suspenders, a hat (bowler, slouch, cowboy, etc) and may even consider facial hair. Women of the time period often wore longer dresses with ruffles, accompanied by large hats and lace gloves. For more ideas on how to dress and a glossary of wild western words and phrases to use at the party, please see the party tips at www.nightofmystery.com. Simply type in murderatthedeadwoodcantina.com and explore the Guest Info and Costuming sections.

© Night of Mystery Inc. - www.nightofmystery.com