★ MURDER AT THE DEADWOOD CANTINA ★

Banker Bob

Owner of the Bank of Deadwood — and the bank was robbed earlier this week!

How to Play It

Business first, last and always. Hunt for the bank robber yourself — you don't trust lazy Sheriff Sam to do it.

Starter Lines

1. Harry, I need what you owe the bank by tomorrow, or the bank takes this cantina.
2. Where were you at the noon hour earlier this week, when my bank was held up?
3. Mr. Money, I may have a business proposition for you… depending on how tonight turns out.

Be Ready If Asked

"How do you feel about Bonnie spending so much time in the cantina?" → "She can do as she pleases!" (But look secretly worried.)

"Is the bank going to take over the cantina?" → "If Harry doesn't make enough money tonight, I may have to foreclose."

"I've got a tip on who robbed your bank!" → Get suspicious: "Who told you that? And what's in it for you?"

When to use these: After Harry's welcome, go find the person each line mentions (or anyone nearby) and work all three into conversation before the lights go out. Tell the host quietly when you're done. After the murder, follow your B envelope.

OBJECTIVES

Banker Bob

Starting Objectives:

- Tell Harry High-Stakes (the cantina owner) that you need the money he owes to the bank by tomorrow or the bank will have to retake the cantina.
- If asked, insist that you may have to foreclose on the cantina if Harry High-Stakes doesn't make enough money by hosting the tournament.
- Tell Montgomery Money (an investor) that you may have a business proposition for him depending on how the evening turns out.
- Ask Sheriff Sam (the sheriff) if he has any leads on who robbed your bank earlier this week.
- Question some of the card players to see what they were doing during the noon hour earlier this week when the bank was robbed.
- Ask Jesse Wales and Barb Cassidy (two outlaws) why they are in town this week.
- When asked about your partner's actions, insist she can do as she pleases! (But be secretly concerned.)
- If Banker Bonnie questions your relationship, insist that you are only trying to provide a better life for her.
- If anyone approaches you with information about your bank robbery, question their sources and motives.

Banker Bob

As the bank owner in the town of Deadwood, you do business with many of the people in the town and also some of the participants of the Deadwood Poker Tournament. One of your foremost clients is Harry High-Stakes (the Deadwood Cantina owner). In order to get the cantina established and operating in it's first year, you have loaned Harry a substantial amount of money. Although the cantina appears to be doing very well, you are uncertain why Harry is continually delinquent and sometimes misses his payments on his loan. Just last month, Harry was late again on his payment and you warned him that you will have to put his cantina into foreclosure if he cannot repay the money he owes on the loan by next month. You suspect that Harry is throwing the Deadwood Poker Tournament in order to get enough money so that he can repay his debt. This will be an important week to see if you will gain your money back from Harry's loan or if you will gain control over the cantina.

Because Harry is such a difficult and delinquent client, you hope that you will gain control over the cantina. If the cantina becomes the bank's property, you speculate that you may have a very wealthy buyer in Montgomery Money, an investor from the East. Because of Montgomery's reputation, you are certain that you will make a healthy profit off of selling the cantina to Montgomery and he will be consistent and reliable when making his loan payments.

In addition to all the excitement of the tournament, your bank was held up at gun point. Banker Bonnie (your business partner) was watching the bank over the noon hour while you were meeting with Harry about his payments. Because of the high ante for the poker tournament, you are convinced that the robber must have been a card player who was trying to accumulate enough money to pay for the entry fee. Since you view Sheriff Sam (the sheriff) as a very lazy individual, you plan on taking matters into your own hands when it comes to finding the culprit of the bank robbery and bringing them to justice! In addition, you do not believe that Sheriff Sam is a moral character as well. Just this past week, you saw Sheriff Sam taking money from Harry High-Stakes. While you do not know the details of the transaction, the secretive nature in which the money was exchanged suggests that it was not for an honest reason.

As the Deadwood Poker Tournament Party quickly approaches, you are looking forward to attending for a few reasons. First, the party will be a perfect place for you to talk business with Montgomery Money about his intentions on investing in the cantina if your bank gains control of it. Second, you plan to figure out which one of the poker players may have robbed your bank and you plan to bring them to justice! And lastly, by the end of the night, you will know whether Harry will have enough money to pay off his debt to you or if the cantina will be yours!

Acting and Dressing Your Part: As the bank owner of Deadwood, you are a businessman first. Your bank and your money come before everything, including your partner Bonnie. Since you will be using the party to for business matters, you will want to dress dignified for the night. Consistent with the times, you may consider a button down shirt, vest, ascot and hat (bowler, derby, slouch, card player or other). Popular of the time period, you may also consider add ing in facial hair. *For more ideas on how to dress and a glossary of wild western words and phrases to use at the party, please see please see the party tips section at www.nightofmystery.com.
